

BOARD OF ASSESSMENT APPEALS

Anne Kendall

Democratic Party

Biographical Statement

Anne moved to Weston in 2015 and instantly fell in love with its community. She has been on a faculty member of Fairfield University since 2017. She has served on the Weston Historical District Committee since 2020. Anne enjoys going to Lachat Town farm with her family during her down time.

In your opinion, what is the most significant issue facing Weston today?

Weston lacks a diverse population. The population of Weston does not reflect the demographics of the greater world outside of the community.

Why are you running for this specific office and what do you bring to it?

I am running for Board of Tax Assessment Appeals because I believe Weston citizens deserve fair taxes for better schools. I bring an unbiased view towards real estate value to Weston residents. I want the taxes on our homes and vehicles to be fair to all residents.

What is the most important issue this board/commission faces and how would you potentially address it?

In the past, many of the members of the Appeals Board have had a vested interest in real estate values because they were, or had the potential to be, involved in the sales of homes around Weston. From the outside, this can be seen as a self-serving interest. I am not involved in real estate so I believe I can be fair and equitable to all residents.
