In your opinion, what is the most significant issue facing Weston today?

I don't think that there is only one significant issue facing Weston today. Some issues will require more resources than others, and some may require changes & agreements in points of view. One such issue is a safety issue. This issue is excessive speeding & complete disregard for traffic signals and signs. These types of driving endanger not only the life of the driver but all the people on the road around the driver. The resources are in place to address this issue at no or minimal additional cost to the taxpayers.

Why are running for this specific office and what do you bring to it?

Volunteerism has always been very important to me. This position provides me with the opportunity to give back to my community and affords me the opportunity to utilize my 19 years' experience as a realtor to fairly evaluate residents' requests for modification of their real estate assessments.

What is the most important issue this board/commission faces and how would you potentially address it?

The most important issue that the Board of Assessment Appeals faces is providing a matrix that outlines the guidelines for the assessment appeal. Specifically, what information should appellants supply to support their belief that town assessors erred in the valuation of their property. As a member of the Board, I will carefully & thoughtfully evaluate each case & work with Board members to achieve a consensus.
