In your opinion, what is the most significant issue facing Weston today?

In my opinion Weston is on a great trajectory. We have effectively balanced the needs of the community while keeping Weston the great place we all love. I believe we will continue to do so.

Why are running for this specific office and what do you bring to it?

I am running for re-election to the Board of Assessment Appeals because I believe that my 10 years of experience as a realtor combined with 30 years of homeownership in town gives me the ability to provide a fair and balanced assessment of a private property. With the upcoming implementation of the revaluation, I anticipate a great number of appeals. My current board experience will be crucial in ensuring a smooth process.

What is the most important issue this board/commission faces and how would you potentially address it?

The most important issue that our Board face is that applicants assume we have more leeway to change assessments that we actually have. We evaluate any potential changes in assessment in a data driven manner and work hard to ensure that assessments are equitable for all Weston residents.
